With this in mind, our beds are designed to deliver correct body support, superb levels of comfort and the promise of a perfect night's sleep. However, the level of surface softness is a matter of personal preference as only you can choose your perfect bed.

Airsprung's new range of bedsteads includes contemporary and traditional metal beds (all with sprung slatted bases). All of the bedsteads are produced using pine from managed forests and are designed to complement the Canterbury Collection of bedroom furniture.
